

News Release

Date June 2009
Contact: Jim Steele
Company Falewitch Construction Services, Inc.

Falewitch Construction Services, Inc.
Named a Greater Omaha 2009 Safest Company
For Second Year in a Row

Once again, Falewitch Construction Services, Inc. has been named one of Greater Omaha's 2009 Safest Companies by the National Safety Council, Greater Omaha Chapter. Recognition of their Silver Award of Honor took place at 'Awards and Sustenance' at the Safety and Health Summit, May 13 at the Qwest Center Omaha.

"Falewitch Construction Services, Inc. has achieved the Greater Omaha's Safest Companies Award for the second consecutive year," said Kay Farrell, President/CEO of the National Safety Council, Greater Omaha Chapter. "They have undergone an extensive review by the Chapter's Safest Companies Committee made up of safety professionals representing a broad variety of industries and safety disciplines. Taken into consideration in designation of the award were the performance, results and achievements of Falewitch Construction Services, Inc.'s workplace safety program."

